Three possible ways to obtain the satellite equipment to suit your budget:

You have the option to buy your equipment outright, to rent it or to rent it with zero set-up costs.

Buying your equipment outright means that you are not agreeing to any contract period* and the ongoing monthly costs are lower.

The rental option means that the initial outlay is lower but you are agreeing to a 24 month contract and there is an ongoing monthly rental charge.

The Rental Free option offers zero initial outlay but again you are agreeing to a 24 month contract and there is an ongoing monthly rental charge. The monthly airtime subscriptions are also slightly higher with this option.

 except under our February promotion pricing where the agreement is for 12 months.*

The Tooway Extra Package:

The Tooway Extra package is ‘uncapped’ but certain rules and restrictions do apply. The satellite operator makes a distinction between website browsing/email and bandwidth hungry uses such as video streaming.

For the first 35GB of data you consume each month both of these areas are treated the same and no restrictions are applied.

Once 35GB of data has been consumed in a month the provider will start to apply restrictions to heavy use activities such as video streaming in busy periods. This is in order to balance the overall demand on the network and at busy times the connection will be slower than normal which may cause video to buffer etc.

Once 100GB of data has been consumed in a month the provider will block all heavy use activity & only web browsing and email will be permitted.

Because of the restrictions applied to protocols such as streaming & other heavy use activities Tooway Extra is not recommended for professional or commercial use.

FREEZONE unlimited night time use:

The Tooway 25, 40 and Extra packages include the Freezone option as standard. This means that data consumed between midnight and 6am is not included as part of your monthly allowance. FREEZONE is not available on the Tooway 2 or 10 packages.

Volume Boosters:

If you hit your monthly data allowance then your download speed will be reduced to 64 kb/s (except Tooway Extra). Volume Boosters can be purchased to provide additional capacity if this happens.

Optional Extras:

Optional Extras	Cost
	£s	€s
Home installation kit (wall bracket, cable & connectors)	39.99	39.95
Wireless router	59.99	59.95

Professional Packages:

Europasat & Tooway offer a number of professional options with data allowances up to 125GB per month. If you require more bandwidth or faster speeds for your business then bespoke packages are also available.

Please contact us to discuss your requirements & the options available.
